Description

The museum was founded in 1998 as part of the Museum of Art in Olomouc. It is the first museum of spiritual culture in Czechia, which includes a palace of Moravian bishops with preserved original Romanesque windows and a former chapter deanery on the site of the former Přemyslid castle. In the museum you can see beautiful liturgical objects planted with precious stones, a carved medieval Madonna or paintings of old masters of archbishop collections. Great attention is drawn to the richly decorated 18th century bishop's carriage. The Archdiocesan Museum in Olomouc is the only monument in Czechia that has won the prestigious "European Heritage" label.
